TAFT IS NOW FOR LOWER TARIFF

Says Revise Cotton Tariff—
Downward—Bases Advice on Cotton Report

PLEADS FOR HIS TARIFF
BOARD, ALSO CASH FOR IT

Report of Board is Voluminous,
Compares Home and Foreign Production Cost

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The recommendation of a downward revision of duties on cotton goods, a plea for the life of the tariff board and a demand for further funds to permit it to continue, were contained in a message to Congress by President Taft today, transmitting the tariff board's cotton report. The message vigorously defends the board, asking for $20,000 monthly to continue its work.

The cotton report is voluminous. It blames the "cost of distribution" for the middleman's large percentages. Commenting on the report the President says:

"On the basis of the report I recommend that Congress proceed to the consideration of this schedule with a view to revision and reduction."

The tariff board's conclusions were set forth in the message as follows: "On account of the different methods, the domestic labor cost of weaving is reduced below foreign cost. Except in the case of a few special fabrics, and various manufactured articles which are only slightly produced in America, the American industry supplies practically the entire consumption. Mill prices in many cases are as low here as in foreign markets, where prices are rarely lower by anything like the whole amount of the duty. The effect of the present tariff, then, is not to add the duty to the manufacturers' prices but to secure an American market, and prevent foreign competition."

Commenting on mill prices, President Taft said: "Mill prices are in many cases equal at home and abroad. In no case is the mill price in this country increased by anything like the full amount of the duty. On the other hand, the prices paid by consumers are higher here than abroad, even when manufacturers' prices are the same in both places."

TAFT SCORED BY TWO IN CONGRESS

Martin of Colorado and Bacon of Georgia Charge Him With Aid for Smelter Trust

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The savage attacks on the administration, in one of which President Taft was charged with being "cheek by jowl" with Senator Guggenheim protecting the smelter trust, were made in the two houses of Congress yesterday.

Such a bitter attack on the President is unprecedented in recent years.

Representative Martin of Colorado was the spokesman in the House. In a speech that fairly bristled with accusations he predicted a saturnalia of corruption in his state as the result of the administration's reluctance to get after the smelter trust.

In the Senate, Bacon of Georgia, accused Attorney General Wickham of disrespect to the Senate in refusing to turn over to it the papers in the case of the government against the harvester trust. As Wickham's refusal was professed, "by direction of the President," Bacon also made Mr. Taft a co-defendant in his case against the attorney general, declaring that department heads are creatures of Congress and alleging that the attorney general had hid behind the President to do a thing he would not dare to do in the open.

NO MORE SCHOOL WILL BE DISTRIBUTED TILL SEPT. 1, '13

SACRAMENTO, March 26.—Surveyor General Kingsbury announced that he was unable to longer accept any applications for school lands, as an act withdrawing such lands, passed by the special session of the legislature, became effective at midnight Saturday, preventing further distribution of these lands until September 1, 1913.

Chas W. Morse Reported to Be Sinking Fast

LONDON, March 26.—Charles W. Morse, the convicted American banker who was recently released from prison by President Taft, on account of ill health, is sinking rapidly and the end is believed to be near, according to dispatches from Florence, Italy, where he stopped en route from Rome to Paris to consult a specialist.

Dreadnaught Florida Wins Title of Fastest in Navy
ROCKLAND, Me., March 26.—Returning last night from her standardization test, the American dreadnaught Florida brought with her the title of the fastest dreadnaught in the navy and perhaps in the world. Today's test showed that the recent acquisition to the navy is capable of 22.54 knots an hour in a heavy sea.

The Princess Louise of Belgium Buys for $20,000,000 Estate
PARIS, March 26.—Princess Louise of Belgium, now living in the Avenue Du Bois de Boulogne, has engaged thirty-two lawyers to press her suit against the Belgian government to recover the estate which she claims was the personal property of her father, King Leopold. More than $20,000,000 is involved in the suit.

Dr. Mary Walker Better—She May Recover
NEW YORK, March 26.—Dr. Mary D. Walker, who is ill at the Hotel Gerard, was so much improved last night that her companion, Mrs. Nellie Vanslingerland, said there seemed to be hope of the aged woman's recovery.

Los Angeles Free Canal Tolls Plan Endorsed by New York
LOS ANGELES, March 26.—Geo. C. Perkins wires Secretary H. B. Gurley that the free canal tolls resolution recently adopted by the local Chamber of Commerce, has been referred to the Senate committee on interoceanic canals. The New York Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the free canal tolls proposition.

Canada Requests Dean Hearing Postponed
LOS ANGELES, March 26.—The hearing of Charles Dean, alias Hoffman, alleged to be implicated in the New Westminster, Canada, $300,000 bank robbery, was postponed until Friday at the request of the Canadian government, which is seeking to extradite Dean.

Los Angeles County Jury Resumed Session
LOS ANGELES, March 26.—The county grand jury resumed its session today. D. S. Alexander of Whittier, was the only witness, and the subject of inquiry was not announced.

NEW MEXICO SOLONS DENY SEEKING BRIBE FOR VOTE

SANTA FE, N. M., March 26.—Three of the four representatives charged with soliciting a bribe testified late yesterday before the House investigating committee.

"All the money in the world could not have changed my mind as to my purpose not to vote for Ellego Baca," declared Louis R. Montoya, one of the defendants.

Montoya, Julian Trujillo and Manuel Cordova, all testified that Mounted Policeman A. A. Sena entered, with drawn revolver, the room at the hotel in which they were arrested. Montoya said he was "scared blind" and could not read the resignation he signed.

30,000 TEXTILE WORKERS ARE OUT

All Lowell Mills But One Close;
Strikers Parade; Leaders
Kept Out of Town

LOWELL, Mass., March 26.—Thirty thousand textile workers were thrown out of employment when the owners of every mill except the Lawrence Milling Company announced that they will close. The action follows the strikes at the Hamilton (Mass.) mills.

After the mills had closed, 5000 of the strikers paraded. Police Superintendent Welch ordered William Haywood and other strike leaders, to remain outside the city as part of the plan to preserve peace.

HAS LONG WAIT ROOSEVELT MEN FOR EXPERT'S REPORT BOLT INDIANA CONVENTION

Governmental Opinion on Processing Walnuts Not Coming Any Time Soon

GUARANTEE OFTEN
ASKED BY BUYER

Matter is of Importance to the Walnut Growers of the Entire State

A few weeks ago a government expert was here at the request of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association to make an investigation into the processing of walnuts. The association had hoped for an early report, but word has come from the expert to the effect that it may be two or three years before the report is forthcoming.

There are two processes used in preparing walnuts for shipment, one the chlorine process, used by the Santa Ana association, and the other the saltpetre, used by the Richmond association of Orange.

Eastern buyers have often asked the shippers for guarantees that the walnuts are absolutely free from anything deleterious to health. While the local association has always believed that the process used by it has no harmful effect upon the walnut it has desired a governmental opinion on the subject so that it can give its guarantee with authority. It is with considerable disappointment, then, that word comes that the report of the expert will not be on hand for two or three years.

The investigation is of vast importance to the walnut growing interests all over the state.

DOLLAR RATE PROFITABLE

Santa Fe Expert Admits Road
Made Money Hauling Lemons at Dollar Rate

Commerce Commission Upholds Decision as to Dollar Rate in the West

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Maintaining its previous position, the Interstate Commerce Commission today refused to sanction the lemon rate increase from Southern California to Colorado, Utah, Montana and other Western states. It ordered the dollar rate to be maintained.

LEMON RATE HEARING COMES TO SUDDEN END TODAY

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—The lemon rate hearing before Judge Mack came to a sudden end today when the railroad attorneys rested their case. The attorneys for the growers refused to offer any testimony, claiming the roads had made no case. Judge Mack returns to Washington immediately. Argument on the testimony will be heard before the full commerce court, probably on April 9.

RAILROAD EXPERT ADMITS SANTA FE PROFITS AT $1 RATE

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—Attorney Patrick Farrell, for the Interstate Commerce Commission, scored over the railroads in the lemon rate case before Federal Judge Mack when he wrung an unwilling admission from statistician J. P. Peabody, for the Santa Fe, that the railroad could haul lemons at the dollar rate with profit. Peabody qualified his statement by saying such profit would be small and uncommensurate. Peabody occupied the stand the greater part of the day. He admitted the Santa Fe's net surplus since 1896 had been more than $20,100,000 and also that it had paid more than 6 per cent dividends on its stock although it had expensively extended its system.

Attorney Norton for the Santa Fe today gained a point by showing the Santa Fe's profits for the last seven months was $2,039,940 less than for the corresponding months last year. The citrus protective attorneys replied, contending that weather conditions this year increased the cost of maintenance and reduced the profits. The question of "Why is a freight rate?" was lengthily discussed from the railroad's point of view. Peabody summarized by saying: "A rate should cover the operating expense of the railroad with interest on the investment of the entire system, taxes and additional expenses, and then give a proper return on the property's value."

Objected to Rules Allowing Delegates Vote in Contests Involving Themselves

TAFT'S ENDORSEMENT IS FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

Progressive Principles Scored and Third Term is Also Denounced

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—Determined to elect four delegates at large to the national convention, Roosevelt Republicans today bolted the state convention after four delegates had been instructed to vote for Taft.

The Roosevelt Republicans objected to the rules of the committee permitting delegates to vote in the contest wherein they themselves were involved.

The committee on resolutions reported endorsing Taft, denouncing the initiative, referendum and recall, and a third presidential term.

LA FOLLETTE CENTRAL COMMITTEE IS FORMED

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—A La Follette state central committee was organized here today from a convention containing La Follette enthusiasts from every section of the state. Thos. K. Kase, of Los Angeles, was named as president; vice presidents, Rudolph Spreckels, of San Francisco, Wm. Smythe of San Diego, and A. M. Drew of Fresno. Kase is also chairman of the committee.

The convention sanctioned a challenge from Smythe to Governor Johnson to debate whether the interests of the California progressives will be best subserved by Roosevelt or La Follette as a candidate.

Status of Petitions
SACRAMENTO, March 26.—No Taft or La Follette petitions arrived today. Wilson petitions are now complete in a majority of the districts. Clark petitions are complete in the first district.

CONFLICTING ARE MEXICAN REPORTS

Mexico City Rejoicing Over Rumored Federal Triumph; Rebels Claim Victory

MEXICO CITY, March 26.—Later reports of the last three days engagements are causing the populace to believe that Madero is coloring the Jimenez battle news and that the Federal success, if any, is slight. The people believe the suicide of General Salas indicates his defeat.

OROZCO'S COMMAND AND FEDERALS WAR AT CORRALITOS

EL PASO, March 26.—Fighting between the Federals and rebels at Corralitos, in Chihuahua state, was resumed this afternoon when the Federals attacked Orozco's command. Orozco leading his men personally. Heavy losses are already reported. Varying reports of the earlier Jimenez battle are arriving. Both sides claim the victory. Apparently unbiased reports say the rebels were victorious in the first engagement and the Federals in the second, driving the rebels to the hills. The loss on both sides was heavy. It is reported 1500 fell. It is generally regarded here as a Federal victory.

City Was Celebrating
MEXICO CITY, March 26.—The capital is taking a holiday following the report that the government has won a victory after three days of fighting at Jimenez and Corralitos. Maderistas claim there were 1000 rebels slain, and that the command was routed and driven to the hills. Dispatches from rebel commanders claim the rebels were the victors, and say hundreds of federals were slain.

MEXICO CITY, March 26.—The condition of the poor in Torreon, where the federal troops are centered, is desperate, they being out of food and clothing. The government troops poured into the city by hundreds after the long fight at Escalon in which they are reported to have suffered heavy loss. The reported suicide of Federal General Gonzalez Salas, following the fight, is not yet confirmed. The Mexican government, up to last night, continued to deny a defeat, stating that the federals had defeated the rebels at Corralitos with a loss of the rebels of 1000 in dead, wounded and captured.

PACKERS ACQUITTED UNANIMOUS VERDICT

Ten Millionaire Beef Barons Beat Government After Ten Years Fight

CHICAGO, March 26.—After deliberating for eighteen hours, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of J. Ogden Armour and the nine other Chicago millionaire beef packers charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Before the opening of court, it was reported that the jury in the case of the ten millionaire packers charged with violation of the Sherman law, had agreed to convict two defendants and acquit eight. Attorneys Borders and Miller for the defense, rushed excitedly to Judge Carpenter's chambers when they heard the report.

Scenes of wild hilarity and disorder followed the verdict. All the defendants who were present with their lawyers and friends gathered together in congratulations. Judge Carpenter was silent regarding the verdict. He immediately discharged the jury, returning to his chambers. The packers led their lawyers and friends to the offices of the National Packing company where an impromptu reception was held.

Federal District Attorney Wilkerson refused to comment on the verdict and refused to divulge the government's next move.

The jury returned its verdict at 12:15 and Judge Carpenter immediately discharged the defendants, whose total wealth is estimated at $190,000,000. The defendants were Louis F. Swift, president of the Swift Packing Co.; Edward F. Swift, vice president, Charles H. Swift, director, and Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing Co.; J. Ogden Armour, president of the Armour Packing Co.; Arthur Meeker, general manager of the Armour Co.; Edward Morris, president of the Morris Packing Co.; Francis F. Fowler, director of the Swift Co.; Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of the Armour Co.; Louis H. Heyman, manager of the Morris Co.

The war on the packers resulting in their indictment was begun by the government in 1902. After several legal attempts in which the government was baffled, a special grand jury indicted the ten packers. The case was brought to trial on November 20 last before Federal Judge Carpenter. In 1902 the Department of Justice secured an injunction from Federal District Judge Grosscup restraining the packers from organizing a gigantic combination. On July first, indictments were returned against sixteen packers, six of the men acquitted today, being held answerable on that occasion to combination in restraint of trade. The case was bitterly fought. Judge Humphrey finally granting an "amnesty bath" on March 21, 1906.

Resting for four years, the government impaneled a grand jury which on March 21, 1910 indicted the National Packing Co. and its ten subsidiaries, charged with combination in restraint of trade. Dissolution of the beef trust was demanded. Suit was brought under a civil section of the Sherman law. On the ground that the indictments were faulty Judge Landis on June 24, 1910, sustained the demurrer entered by the packers and dismissing the defendants, but at the same time directing that another special grand jury be created. This body sprung a sensation on August 11, by indicting on a perjury charge, Thomas G. Lee, department manager of the Armour Co. Other indictments followed, three in all containing seven counts against the ten packers.

Today we call for four of last Friday's papers and those holding the copies bearing the numbers called for, can secure the rewards by bringing or sending the papers to the Register office.

The numbers of the four papers will be found in the display advertisements of this issue—one number in each of four different advertisements. It will not be difficult to locate the right numbers as there has been no effort made to conceal them. YOU CAN'T MISTAKE THE NUMBERS WHEN YOU SEE THEM.

After you have found all of the four numbers, get your last Friday's paper and compare the number in the square at the right of the heading of the supplement section. If the number on your Friday's paper corresponds exactly with either of the numbers found in the advertisements of this paper, you are entitled to one of the rewards.

The first person to bring in one of the Friday's papers wanted, will be given the $3.00 rug from Ira Chandler & Sons Furniture store. The ones bringing in the three remaining numbered papers called for, will each be given $1.00 in cash.

Now, we want these papers, and we want to give out the rewards, but we don't want you to come in with the wrong number and be disappointed. Be sure that you understand the proposition thoroughly, as we expect to number the papers on Friday each week and if there is the interest manifested that we hope for, better rewards will be offered from time to time. Read the article that appeared on the first page of last Friday's paper, it explains everything fully.

The entire proposition is extremely simple, but judging from the many telephone calls received today, many of our subscribers have not taken the trouble to read the full details of the plan as announced in Friday's paper, last week.

We would like to have the winning papers brought in as soon as you can conveniently do so, but will redeem them any time during this week.

A Few Don't's
Don't bring in your Friday's paper until you are sure it is one of those called for.

Don't bring in a portion of your Friday's paper. We want it complete.

Don't come to the Register office to have us explain this proposition. It was fully explained in last Friday's paper.

Why These Rewards Are Offered
All we hope to gain by this offer, is to induce more people to read advertisements. We know that they can read them with advantage to themselves, as well as profit to the advertisers. Once you form the habit of reading the advertising, you wonder why you had not done so before. You not only get such information from such reading but there is seldom a day but that you will find something advertised, which you want.

ENTOMBED BY EXPLOSION IN MINE

Eighty-Six Miners Caught in Death Trap; But Fourteen Are Yet Accounted for

THREE ESCAPED; ONE DEAD
BODY ONLY IS RECOVERED

Fire Damp Gives Little Hope for Imprisoned Men; Rescue Cars Are En Route

WELCH, W. Va., March 26.—Eighty-three miners were entombed in the mine of the United States Coal and Coke Company at Jed, three miles from here, the explosion occurring at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Eighty-six miners were working at the time of the explosion, three of them escaping.

After fire damp fills the mine, it is not believed there will be a chance of rescuing the others. Miners in rescue parties are endeavoring to approach the mine through the second shaft. The Federal Mine Bureau has been asked to rush aid to the scene of disaster.

WELCH, W. Va., March 26.—Only fourteen of the eighty-six miners entombed in the explosion at Jed today have been accounted for. Ten have been rescued alive, three escaped and one corpse has been recovered. Heavy smoke and fumes issued from the mine following the explosion but soon ceased. This has led to the belief that the mine is not burning.

Nearly all the victims are married. They had been in the shaft less than an hour when the explosion occurred.

Rescue Cars on Way
WASHINGTON, March 26.—Two rescue cars have been ordered to be rushed to the aid of the Welch miners. Mine bureau officials are accompanying the cars.

ENGINEERS' DEMAND FOR WAGE ADVANCE DENIED

NEW YORK, March 26.—The committee of twelve, consisting of vice presidents and general managers, representing about fifty railroads, appointed to draw up an answer to the demands of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for an increase in wages, yesterday declined to grant any increases.

To this the conference committee of the Brotherhood, headed by W. S. Stone, grand chief engineer, replied that the engineers reaffirmed their demands and the managers had nothing further to offer, the entire matter would be submitted to the engineers represented for their final action.

ENGLISH MINERS WOULD COMPROMISE

Ready to Give Up All Demands But Minimum Wage—Suffering Increasing

LONDON, March 26.—The breach in the miners' strike widened today, when the operators refused to treat on the basis offered by the miners, who agreed to drop all other demands in order to secure the minimum wage scale of five shillings to adults and two shillings to minors. Nine million people are facing starvation. The suffering extends to every coal city and hamlet in Great Britain. The suffering in Sheffield is the most severe, a thousand women being in dire straits. The town and city authorities are turning gruel, this in many places being the strikers' only food. The infant mortality is increasing.

SWANSEA HARBOR TRAFFIC STAGNATED BY STRIKE

SWANSEA, Wales, March 26.—With the copper smelters and tin plate mills closed, harbor traffic has stagnated. Soup kitchens are overcrowded and suffering is intense. The death rate is rapidly increasing.

MRS. SAMPSON EDWARDS IS KILLED BY LOS ANGELES CAR

An automobile driven by Samson Edwards was struck by a Los Angeles car at Fourth and Birch streets, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, resulting in the instant death of Mrs. Edwards and the serious injury of Mr. Edwards.

The latter was taken to the Santa Ana Hospital, and there is said to be small hope of his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have been residents of Santa Ana and Orange county many years. Only a few months ago they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

CROP LIKELY TO BE SHORT

Review of Situation in Regard to the Coming Apricot Production of County & State

Last night our ranchers were favored with the old fashioned and long approved method of "overhead irrigation," and the only fault we can find with it is that it is selective enough. It falls "upon the just and the unjust" alike, and soaks the grainfields as well as the apricot trees in bloom. The "blessed" rain, which in the Tustin district descended as a gentle rain, but also in heavy showers, is not likely to prove an "unmixed blessing" to apricot growers. The probability is that from many open blossoms both nectar and pollen were washed out. If the weather clears today or tomorrow, giving our faithful ally, "the busy little bee," a chance to work, the damage may not prove so great. If, however, cloudiness or rain should prevent bees from flying out for the next few days, the prospects of a good crop will suffer much discount. The manner of bloom this year is somewhat peculiar, and does not warrant anticipation of a heavy crop. This is probably due to the winter drought. The blossoms in the upper part of the trees are not only slow in coming (which may prove a blessing in the end), but they appear to be small and not well developed, which will mean no fruit or small. Time will prove.

We are learning to do so many things for orchards, perhaps in the not distant future we will learn to put up umbrellas over our trees if it rains while they are in bloom.

The outlook in Orange county or in the state at present is not for a bumper crop. The earliest blooming trees here already show many blossoms fallen, and but little fruit set. The rest of this month and the next are critical for the apricot crop here on account of rain and fogs. The crop in the north is three to four weeks earlier, and being quite early this year, is the more subject to injury from frost. In some sections the frost and northerly winds have already done damage. Smudging an apricot orchard against frost would seem queer to us in Orange county, but some northern growers have taken to its practice.

Reports on the crop outlook from the north are conflicting, but that there will not be a heavy crop on an average is now certain. Some districts report a light crop, while in other districts the report of a good crop may suffer great change before the end of the season.

Our growers will find it to their advantage to apply some quick acting fertilizer in April or May to produce good sized fruit. Good stable manure which has not been bleached by the rains, will do good work if put in soon, and followed by rains or irrigation. Otherwise nitrate of soda or nitrate of lime will be advisable, and may be used as late as May.

Choice between the two must be made by deciding whether the alkali sodium or the lime is preferable in the particular orchard. It should also depend upon the availability and amount of nitrogen contained in either.

J. G. BERNEIKE, M. D.

finally summoned and made aware of the tense situation. Bellhops, porters and shoe-shine artists were sent out to scour nearby tontorial parlors and manicure shops in quest of the missing man.

Meanwhile the big clock was reeling off the minutes at the same doleful rate of speed, and Mrs. Cypher was still waiting at the hotel for her fiancé. And evidently some barber was still coining money.

The young army of amateur detectives returned. They had interviewed nearly every hirsute trimmer and facial appendage sculptor in the city and learned—nothing.

Four o'clock! Mrs. Bolman was on the verge of calling the police station to ascertain if any accident or calamity had befallen her sweetheart, when Bolman tripped smilingly into the room.

"Oh, where have you been?" cried Mrs. Cypher, as she threw her arms about his neck and planted a resounding smack on his smooth cheek.

"Why, I've been out getting cleaned up a bit," replied Bolman, in a matter-of-fact tone. "I got a shave, and a haircut, and a singe, and a shampoo and a massage, and then I thought my nails needed polishing and so I got a manicure. I never thought you'd worry about me."

Ready, You Bet!

"Are you ready for the ceremony?" reverently inquired the minister.

"You bet I am!" said Bolman, as he nestled close to Mrs. Cypher and took her hand. Then Rev. Mr. Ore pronounced them husband and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stephenson of this city were witnesses. They had also been waiting two hours.

Los Angeles Times: Because A. L. Bolman, an Olinda oil driller, kept Mrs. Eva May Cypher, his bride-to-be, waiting at the hotel two hours after the appointed time set for their wedding, yesterday, while he got a shave, haircut, singe, massage, shampoo and manicure, he nearly capsize their marital ship before the knot was finally made secure.

Bolman and Mrs. Cypher came to the city yesterday morning to be married, and brought Rev. Albert Ore of Olinda along to perform the ceremony.

After luncheon at the New Broadway Hotel, Bolman informed Mrs. Cypher that he was going around the corner to a barber shop and would return at 2 o'clock, the hour set for the marriage.

At 2 o'clock Bolman had not put in an appearance, and the bride-to-be was waiting with the minister. The big clock in the parlor ticked off the seconds and minutes, and still Bolman didn't come.

Tense Situation

By 3 o'clock the anxious woman was almost in a state of collapse, and Rev. Mr. Ore paced nervously up and down the hotel corridors wondering what had become of the driller. Proprietor Fred George of the hotel was

FINE NEW LIBRARY WILL BE DEDICATED

University of California Students are to Take Part in the Exercises

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 14.—The beautiful new University Library, built by the bequest of Charles Franklin Doe, and costing, including equipment, $870,000, will be dedicated on Charter Day, Saturday, March 23—the forty-fourth anniversary of the chartering of the University of California by the state.

A procession in which the alumni assembled by classes, the students, and the members of the faculty will march from the monumental steps of the new library to the Greek Theatre, where at 10 o'clock the annual Charter Day address will be delivered by Herbert Putnam, the former librarian of the Minneapolis and later of the Boston Public Library, and for twelve years past librarian of the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C. The United States government spends $600,000 per annum in support of this Congressional Library. It contains two million volumes, and has now come to be one of the three greatest collections of books in the world. The Charter Day audience then will go in a body from the Greek Theatre to the steps of the library, where Dr. Putnam, President Benj. Ide Wheeler, Librarian Rowell, and a representative of the Doe family will deliver the addresses in honor of the dedication of the building.

The new library is a superb architectural monument. It is built of white California granite and roofed in Red Mission tile. It stands on a low bluff above the botanical gardens of the University. Its north facade is adorned by lofty engaged columns, through the great bronze doors, each of which weighs a ton and a half, the visitor proceeds along a corridor columned, and paneled in white marble, mounts a broad marble staircase, and reaches the Catalogue and Delivery hall, a spacious apartment adorned with elaborately modeled decorations in Caen stone work and with a long delivery desk of Istrian marble, delicately and beautifully carved, with grille-work in bronze. Passing through the bronze doors, one enters the main reading room, a great hall over 200 feet in length and 40 feet in height. This reading room is filled to its full capacity, with student and other readers, through many hours of every college day.

On the ground floor of the new library, at the north, are two large reading rooms—one devoted to periodicals, current and bound, and the other to Bancroft Library of Pacific Coast History. The ground floor of the other three sides of the building is devoted to seminar rooms—small rooms where graduate students and members of the faculty may work in quiet, with special collections of books needed for particular problems in hand assembled on the seminar room shelves about them. This liberal provision of seminar rooms for research work marks a special excellence in the building over any other American university library previously constructed.

Among other features of the building are the five-story steel book-stack, floored in glass, and containing steel book-shelves with a capacity of 300,000 volumes; a room for maps and charts; a room for the archives and printed publications of the University; a room for mathematical models; offices and storage rooms for the University Press, through which the University prints its series of University publications in zoology, botany, physiology, anthropology, archaeology, economics, modern languages, classical philology, etc., and a large room for library school purposes. This room will first be put into use for library training courses to be offered in the six-weeks summer session which begins June 24. In the basement of this building, also, is the University's seismological laboratory, where stands the apparatus which records all earthquake tremors, sometimes coming from distances of many thousands of miles. This situation was selected because of the great solidity of the building.

As it stands, the new library is only six-tenths the size of the building as it is planned eventually to be. Some $70,000 of Mr. Doe's bequest has been put aside to accumulate at compound interest. When these funds have accumulated sufficiently, it is planned to build three more stories over the entire rear portion of the building, and to increase the steel book-stack from five stories to nine stories in height and from a storage capacity of 300,000 to a capacity of a million volumes. Within a very few years the present book-storage capacity will be exhausted, just as the library was crowded out from Bacon Hall, the gift of Henry Douglas Bacon, long used as the Uni-

SWIPED AUTO EARNED $10

Machine Found Abandoned
Here Was Used for Impromptu Livery

Dr. J. F. T. Jenkins, of 1054 Twenty-fourth street, Los Angeles, whose B-M-F auto was found abandoned on Wright street, near First, Saturday morning, has claimed his machine. The local police, on learning that the machine was registered in Dr. Jenkins' name, notified the Los Angeles authorities, who communicated with the owner and he came down and took the machine home. Dr. Jenkins said it had been taken from where he left it standing on the street.

From a story told the local police it appears that the machine was pressed into service by a Los Angeles man who determined on the spur of the moment to go into the auto livery business. When the report that an abandoned machine had been found on the street was published, two Santa Ana men, whose names are withheld, called on Marshall Wilson and told a story to the effect that they were in Los Angeles Friday night, and found that they had missed the last car. Talking of the matter in a saloon where they had been drinking, a man standing nearby remarked: "I have a machine outside, and will take you down for $10."

The bargain was struck, and the trip, according to the local men, wound up on some street in the residence section, where the engine suddenly went dead. The driver remarked, "It's lucky the accident happened so near home; I'll leave the machine there and come after it in the morning."

Thinking over the matter later, the men realized that the driver's actions had been very curious, and reported the matter. They were unable to locate the spot where they left the machine, but described Dr. Jenkins' machine accurately, and there is little doubt that it was taken by some man who saw an easy way to get $10, and then abandoned.

FOREVER ENDS INDIGESTION

No Heartburn, Gas, Headache or Dyspepsia Five Minutes Later

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead on your stomach, or if you have heartburn, it is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at your drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

PACIFIC GETS ITS FRANCHISE

Home Company Does Not Raise the $1000, and Again
is Shut Out of Orange

ORANGE, March 26.—The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. last night bid for and secured a franchise for its telephone wires in Orange. The Home Telephone Co., which has long been fighting to get into this territory, bid $100, and the Pacific bid $1000. After the bids were opened and read, the Home people asked for a few minutes' time in which to call up headquarters in Los Angeles to see if the $1000 bid of its rivals should be raised. The conversation with Los Angeles Home headquarters evidently resulted in an instruction not to raise the bid, for the representative returned to the council chamber, and said he would not raise it.

Ellis was present for the Home company, and Gilkyson, Lynch and Morrow for the Pacific.

CHANGES AT GARDEN GROVE

Building Sold Will be Improved —School Election to

Dainty New Wash Waists

The new ones for Spring and Summer are here. Short sleeves are correct, and we carry short sleeve models in both high and low neck. This gives you a big range of choice.

You will know the quality of these waists when we mention that they are "Foster Made." Dainty, fine materials, made up just as carefully as possible, in pretty styles are the only kind that Foster produces. If you want a flashy, $1.50 waist for 98c, you must look elsewhere for it. But if you want a dainty waist, and care more about the materials and good workmanship, we have the best there are. Foster waists cost from $1.00 to $5.00.

Pretty One-Piece Dresses

Have you seen our new linen dresses? They are made of a splendid quality of linen for the price, and are trimmed in brown, red, white or blue, with short sleeve, low neck, high waist, and buttons. And they cost just $5.00 and $6.00. Or we can give a chic, new serge dress, cut in the same lines for only $6.00.

We carry wash dresses in white and colors for girls of intermediate ages that have always been hard to fit—too big for children's sizes and too small for misses' sizes. We can fit you now. Let us show you.

AMUSEMENTS

Grand Opera House

Alice Lloyd, the dainty singing comedienne, who is known in this country only as one of the biggest drawing cards in high-class vaudeville, will make her first appearance in "Little Miss Fix-It" in the kind of role in which she has achieved her greatest success in London and the British provinces, at the Grand Opera

Alice Lloyd in "Little Miss Fix-It"

House, Thursday, March 28, as the star of Messrs. Werba & Luescher's musical gaiety, "Little Miss Fix-It." Miss Lloyd has long been a favorite in the big Christmas pantomimes that are just as much a part of the English holiday season as Christmas itself. She has played Cinderella eight times in various parts of England, and has had the title role in important London productions such as "Little Red Riding Hood," "Goody Two Shoes" and other dramatics.

tions of famous fairy stories. During the action of the play Miss Lloyd will present her famous vaudeville specialty, singing all of her latest songs and making her remarkable lightning changes. She will also take part in the latest society dance craze, "The Newport Turkey Trot."

LAST Y.M.C.A. BASKET BALL GAMES TONIGHT

The last games of a series of basketball by the Y.M.C.A. teams of Santa Ana will be played tonight on the French street grounds. This game will decide the championship of the series, the winners receiving the banner. Everybody is invited to attend.

SHIPPING IT TO SAN DIEGO

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has shipped to San Diego a large portion of its underground cable and other materials brought here for the purpose of laying its wires underground.

The company shipped the materials here about three months ago, and expected to begin work as soon as the franchise, which has been long delayed for various reasons, was secured. The shipments have been made over the Santa Fe to San Diego, where it is understood the Pacific company expects to do conduit work at once.

If you do your washing, try our rough dry work instead. It is reasonable in price. The People's New Laundry, 901 E. Fifth St. Both phones.

A PROMISE AND A DUTY

If the Board of Supervisors takes early action toward the building of a road up Sevierville Canyon to meet the road from Elsinore it will be carrying out a promise given long ago and received by Riverside county in good faith. The promise is reason enough for undertaking the construction of the road. If any other reason is needed, let the county consider the large number of people who will be accommodated by another highway between the inland valley east of the Santa Ana mountains and the Orange county seashore. The road will aid in the development of the southern end of the county. It will save many miles of travel for a large share of residents of this section who are called upon to journey into the Elsinore valley. Railroads in working out their schemes of economy tunnel mountains and bridge lakes in order to have miles. The Sevierville Canyon road has the same kind of economy back of it. It will cost the county to build that highway will quickly be made up to the people of this county by the benefit that it will be to the general public.

No one will begrudge the money spent for the carrying out of this project, and with its completion will be added another scenic road to those with which this county is already provided.

THE GROCER NOT GUILTY

Nor the butcher, either, for that matter. And, by the way it was the butcher who inspired this writing.

Out in the Imperial valley, before the blessed rains came upon this Coast country, a butcher complained to this writer that the drought was very hard upon him. He said it made his meat cost him an unconscionable price.

"Why do you not raise your price accordingly," he was asked.

"Can't do it," he replied; and he explained why at some length; which explanation is beside the point, except to summarize it by saying trade and economic conditions would not permit.

But it went to the heart of the question as to how much if any of the blame for "the high cost of living" is chargeable to the retailer.

While we were thinking the matter over, and realizing more fully than ever before that the retail butchers and bakers and grocers of our acquaintance were not just exactly what you might call plutocrats, comes the Saturday Evening Post with an article, by Walter E. Weyl, entitled "The Corner Grocer." Mr. Weyl describes several kinds of retail grocers, he of the big city—not the Jevone or Newberry kind, but "the corner grocer,"—he of the small city, he of the village and he of the crossroads. It certainly appears from his inquiry into their business that if any of these grocers are making a fortune they are not spending it in visible ways. Their homes are in no way superior to those that a skilled mechanic inhabits. The food they eat is not better. Their wives, like your wife and ours, complain of the high cost of living. Even a grocer does not get groceries for nothing.

"Perhaps the grocer is saving his wealth," remarks Mr. Weyl; "perhaps he is hiding it and is living a delectably spare life, only to emerge in old age with a huge fortune. That would account for high retail prices. When, however, you examine the grocer's books you see even this illusion fade. More money is spent in the average grocery store than ever before and there are more grocery stores in which to spend it; but not all of it—or much of it—sticks to the grocer's hands. Wholesale prices have risen, but the rate of profit has not. The retail grocer is like the engraver of banknotes—he makes no more working on a thousand-dollar bill than he does on a one-dollar bill.

"Of course conditions differ. They differ with the city or town or village. In the village the store in which you buy groceries can hardly be called less than a general store, for feed and clothing and furniture and books, and even drugs, form part of its stock. Conditions depend also upon the neighborhood—upon the store itself. There are great department stores and mail order houses doing a vast ramified grocery business; and there are chains of stores, with hundreds of establishments under one management. Some of these stores doubtless earn their tens of thousands and others their hundreds of thousands. At the other end of the line is the microscopic cellar grocery, perhaps run by an immigrant's wife and stocked with the most apologetic supply of fruits and vegetables. It is merely a subsidiary business, which cannot stand on its own feet and earn a decent living for a whole family.

"Avoiding these extremes—the grocery emporium and the little cellar counter—let us try to strike an average. But this, too, is difficult. Who is the average grocer? We don't know; and the grocers know—or seem to know—least of all. A grocer does not tell his business. He dispenses groceries—not information. Though we cannot strike an average, here is a single instance that seems to represent fairly well a large proportion of the grocers we know.

"This grocer started with a capital of a thousand dollars. By means of credit he secured a stock in trade worth twelve hundred and fifty dollars, not counting store furnishings. He turned over his stock once a month, doing a business of fifteen thousand dollars. His operating costs were almost twenty-one per cent, thirty-one hundred dollars in all. Those costs included a drawing account of seven hundred and fifty dollars, on which the grocer lived. At the end of the year he had saved six hundred dollars—or four per cent on his business.

"This is doing very well—doing far better, I believe, than most grocers do. It is not an exorbitant profit. Altogether the grocer made thirteen hundred and fifty dollars, of which fifty dollars might be considered as interest and thirteen hundred dollars as salary. That means about twenty-five dollars a week for fifty-two weeks for a man who worked hard and was above the average of the men in his trade.

"In counting this man's returns we have not taken risk into consideration; but the risk is serious—very serious. Have you ever noticed how the grocers' signs change? The name Hallahan above the door is replaced by Parker—Parker by Bauer—Bauer by Goldfarb—Goldfarb by Masiello. Not all of these represent failures. Sometimes the grocer retires or dies—or follows his old customers to a neighborhood. Often, however, he has not been able to make both ends meet. He has overstocked or bought injudiciously. His neighbors may not have liked him. He may not have been obliging enough. He may have been too obliging and extended credit to whom credit was not due. He may have failed to make his store attractive. He may have had a dishonest or careless clerk. He may have been beaten out by a man who counseled only fourteen ounces to the pound and seven quarts to the peck. Or he may have been outmaneuvered by a competitor with more brains, more initiative or a more engaging personality. In any case, failures are frequent and many grocers are now timekeepers on railroads or night watchmen in factories. When a man puts his little capital into a grocery he may never get it out again. There should be money in groceries—for much money has been sunk in them."

FIGHT WITH SNAKES

Cowboy Found Nearly Dead From Bites in Abandoned Well

Fifteen hours' battling with a dozen or more snakes forty feet below ground in an abandoned well was the racking experience of Charles Welbourne, a cowboy, residing in Valverde county, Tex.

When rescued, after a night in the well, Welbourne had lost his reason, and his arms and legs were literally covered with bites from the snakes.

Eight dead snakes, measuring in length from two to four feet, were taken out.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—The following, issued from headquarters of the Roosevelt organization in this city, is of interest to women:

To California Women:
The undersigned, as vice-presidents of the Roosevelt Progressive Republican League, of Los Angeles county, hereby desire to impress upon all women the importance and necessity of voting at the Presidential Preference Primary election to be held in this state on May 14th. As registration is a prerequisite to voting, we should receive immediate attention. We ask that the following facts be borne clearly in mind.

1. All women who have heretofore been registered, either in 1911 or in 1912, will be qualified to vote at the presidential primary.

2. All women who have not heretofore registered must do so, if they desire to qualify as voters at the presidential primary.

3. April 23rd, 1912, will be the last day upon which any citizen may register in order to vote at the presidential primary. Be sure, if you are not registered, to have your name enrolled before that date.

The importance of participating in the presidential primary cannot be overstated. Therefore, when you register, do so as a member of the particular political party to which you desire to give your allegiance. Voters who refuse to state party preference when registering cannot vote at primary elections.

The state of California, in response to the appeals of its womanhood for equal voting rights, has conferred upon our sex the privilege of the ballot. We as women pledged to the state during the equal suffrage campaign, our interest and our patriotic devotion. This is the first opportunity given the women of California to redeem that pledge, and to justify, to themselves and for women throughout the nation, the claim that women will be useful factors in working out the political and governmental destiny of our country.

Why is the presidential primary important? Because the primary election, which has taken the place of the former conventions, is the one and only agency through which the citizen may express his or her wish as to the character of candidate to be nominated by his or her party.

The presidential primary, on May 14th, will give the Republican voters of California their only opportunity to say whether they prefer progress over government (which in California has done so much for both our womanhood and our manhood), or whether they prefer reactionary government. It will provide the only opportunity for them to say whether they desire, as party leader, Theodore Roosevelt, or another candidate.

We believe in Roosevelt and progressive government, and we call to the cause every Republican woman in California. We have pleaded that we, as women, were fit to rule ourselves, and progressive government in California has made it possible for us to do so. Colonel Roosevelt declares that the people of the United States are fit to rule themselves, by direct expression of their will. As we believe in our own cause here in California, must we not believe in his cause in the nation? The issue is: "Shall the people really rule?" Colonel Roosevelt says "Yes."

In the hope that the views herein recorded will find the approval of California women, we urge active organization and earnest work. We will appreciate correspondence from women, and will render all the assistance we may in the formation of clubs. Let all Republican women unite for a triumphant vindication of the progressive cause in California.

The People's Forum

Brief communications will be published under this head, provided they be signed by the author, or the author's name be sent to the Editor as an evidence of good faith. However, the Editor shall be the sole judge as to the propriety of publishing any communication, and he shall assume no responsibility for any views that may be expressed in this column.

Editor: In Saturday's issue of the Register, you print a report taken from the Los Angeles Examiner in reference to the alleged governmental investigation of the Lima Bean Growers' Association, in order to determine whether or not it is a trust and operating in contravention of the anti-trust law. This is important if true. And, of course, it would interest not only the bean growers, but the orange growers, celery growers and all other farmers' co-operative marketing associations, not only of California, but throughout the United States, for they are all worked on essentially the same plan. While the report referred to is probably a fake, yet it has been rumored before now that certain parties who had considered the bean growers their legitimate victims of prey, were about to take steps to have the bean growers association declared a trust, and put out of business.

No doubt, the administration, having by this time put all the noted trusts nearer home out of business, must now go farther afield to complete the good work. And so the lima bean growers of California must be shown the evil of their ways. I am told that a certain old gentleman, a good old-time Democrat, who is much down on trusts, quit one of our associations, when badgered by friends that he was himself a member of a trust. In soliciting for membership for the apricot growers association I met a good old man who would not join "because the association is a trust." Under the circumstances I did not think it worth while to waste time in argument.

It is just possible that such reports as the one published in the Los Angeles Examiner find their way into the paper for the express purpose of prejudicing growers against associations. For, while the argument is entirely false, it is at times specious enough to mislead the less intelligent grower into thinking that perhaps after all the associations are really trusts, and by joining them he is upholding what he otherwise condemns, or that he is actually engaged in what the law condemns as a criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Now, the farmers' co-operative marketing associations either are trusts or are not trusts. Let us see. If they are trusts, then by Mr. Roosevelt's classification, recognizing two kinds of trusts, they are either good trusts or evil trusts. And, if good trusts, then according to "my policies," they are to be appreciated and fostered, and not to be condemned. If the motto of the Socialists is correct: "Let the people own the trusts," and if we concede the association to be a trust, then the members of the association come pretty near to carrying that motto into effect. For surely the bean growers are the people who should own their trust, and so with all the other growers down the entire line. And so far we have not yet heard of some San Joaquin bean rancher who is a trust owning magnate.

As a matter of fact, there is so much that is commendable about the trusts that a wholesale condemnation of them seems really silly. If the trusts have not generally benefited the people, but have been run in the interests of a few trust magnates, the people must blame themselves for having made it so easy for them to do it. If the people will, they can make this modern commercial and industrial machine serve themselves.

The law of this state recognizes the fact that the associations are not trusts in the commonly accepted meaning of the word. The associations do not limit the output. There are more growers going into bean growing, apricot growing, etc., since the organizations have been started, than before. They do not seek to crush competitors, for they acknowledge every new association as co-operator, not as a competitor. They do not "fix" a price, but seek to sell at a fair price, remunerative to the grower. They seek to take the business out of the hands of speculators who cared not whether the grower lived or died, and to put it on a stable basis. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson commends the farmers for their wisdom in organizing co-operative marketing associations, and urges consumers to be as wise. Here and there farmers are following the latter advice, and the next decade or two will see many farmers' co-operative marketing associations organized into co-operative buying associations. "The world do move." Already this movement has begun. It is inevitable in the development of our civilization, and before we see less of it we shall see a great deal more of it. The obstacles thrown in the way of the associations have after all only helped to strengthen them. As an instance, let me cite the Walnut Growers' Association. The difficulties encountered this year simply strengthened the resolve to build up a stronger central organization, and with it gain greater independence.

Doings in Social and Club Circles

EBELL DAY NURSERY

Club Institution—Used Much by Busy Mothers and Los Angeles Visitors

The executive board of the Ebell Day Nursery reports that the nursery was used this last month by several mothers during house cleaning. The children considered it a sort of picnic too, as they found other children and plenty of new toys to play with. At the proper time they got their two meals. It is a common sight to see mothers going to Los Angeles for the day to put their children in the Day Nursery. Many friends are sending in outgrown clothing which our matron, Mrs. Jones, will accept on account, giving it away to the needy or selling at a trifle. The money is put into our treasury to help with the monthly bills. The Santa Ana Laundry and the People's Laundry alternate each week in doing the nursery washing. This is greatly appreciated. The Shaffer Music Store sent in an organ which is greatly enjoyed by attendants and children.

The board wishes to extend thanks for the following favors: For a sleeping crib; Mrs. Granger, sandwiches; the M. R. Church, South; cookies; a friend; canned fruit, Mrs. Warner; jam, fruit and biscuits, Mrs. McGee; pies and cakes, the Dragon; potatoes, butter, pudding and jelly, the Baptist church; crib and mattress, Mrs. Vanderlip; dolls, from a girl's club of the congregational church; fruit, Mrs. C. W. Atkinson; oranges, Mrs. Dan Head; clothing and a doll, Eunice Jones; baby sewing, Mrs. Chas. Arts; Tustin; couch, Mrs. R. (Bellevue); scrap-book, a friend; toys and clothing, Mrs. Purnoy; canned tomatoes, Mrs. Battey; clothing, Mrs. E. B. Smith; Mrs. F. Harris; Mrs. F. ### Home Mission Tea

The ladies of the Home Mission Society of the First Methodist church will give a tea tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. White, 907 East street. There will be a program and refreshments will be served. Mrs. (Suzanne) the returned Alaska missionary will be present with her pupils. All ladies are cordially invited.

Delightful Evening

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Majora entertained last evening at their pretty home on East Walnut street with a dinner-whist party. The guests of the affair being: Mrs. Majora's birthday; a red and white color scheme prevailed in the dining room, where the delicious five-course dinner was served at 7 o'clock. A red and white birthday cake, bearing the birthday dates, occupied the center of the table. Refreshments were served at 8 o'clock. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Congdon, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Congdon.

Following the dinner, the evening was spent in music and dancing. One of the songs of the evening was "The Swan Song" provided by Mrs. Walter Congdon at the piano.

STUDENT MILLINERY

First Display Chapeaux Was Made by Domestic Science Girls Yesterday

Judging from the interest evinced by the visitors who filled the display room in the domestic science building all yesterday afternoon, millinery, which is being taught in the high school for the first time this year, meets with the approval of the girls' parents.

Bearing in mind that the young ladies who made these hats have received only one lesson a week in millinery during the year, and that many of them have had but twelve lessons in all, their work is really unusually fine and a credit to their teacher, Miss Ethel C. Hinkston. The class is composed of freshmen, sophomores and seniors of the high school.

Hats of every style and description were shown. There were fragile dress and picture hats, made of lace, braid, satin lined and trimmed in the delicate pastel shades in flowers and ribbon, semi-formal bonnets and turbans, smart-looking street and tailored hats and simple sailors fashioned of straw. The hats were made from the wire frame foundation up. Many of the styles were originated by the student who made them, while others were copied from hats seen in the shop windows.

The room used for the exhibition was attractively decorated with asparagus plumosus fern and calla lilies. The hats were displayed on several long tables, each one of which was encircled by pleased visitors, who complimented both teacher and pupils on their amazing success.

Miss Hinkston was assisted in receiving by her pupils, who served punch and small cakes to about five hundred visitors during the afternoon. The large attendance showed the deep interest taken in the practical methods of modern education.

Essay Contest Ended
The high school student essay contest, instituted on March 8 by G. J. Dodds, the real estate operator, closed last evening with ten contestants on the list. The conditions of the contest required that the essays be written by members of the Santa Ana High School, not barring the February graduating class, the subject of each essay to be: "Santa Ana City for High Class Homes and Desirable Family Environment."

The essays were not to exceed 1000 words and were to be written in cursive hand, on separate sheets, with the name of the writer on the top left corner. The essays were to be turned in by the following judges: Stacie Finley, Mrs. Viola Norman, Ray E. R. Murdock, to see how nearly the conditions have been filled. Cash prizes were of $10.00 for the first and second best essays.

Coming Picnic
The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church is to picnic Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson on West street.

For Miss McAfferty
Miss Edna Etchison entertained a large number of friends at the hospitable home of the G. W. Robinsons, near Dolan, last evening, in honor of her house guest, Miss McAfferty. An evening of enjoyment was passed with conversation and vocal and instrumental music. Refreshments of home-made candy, popcorn and nuts were served. Miss Hasty and Miss Peterson, teachers at the Newhope school, were among those present. Miss McAfferty will return to her home in Santa Ana tomorrow.

Travel Club
The Young Lady Travelers of the Ebell Society, will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. T. Rutherford.

MILLINERY OPENINGS

Many Openings Have Extended Over Some Time—All Proved Most Attractive

The spring millinery openings have extended over so considerable a space of time this season that the ladies of Santa Ana have been treated to almost a panoramic succession of millinery showings.

The most recent of these was that of the Crookshank-Bentley store held last Saturday. The day was lovely and a record attendance marked the opening. Never has there been so large a crowd at any opening held at this well known store as on Saturday afternoon and evening. The show windows gave a foretaste of the beautiful interior. The principal window was a bower of ferns and flowers of every tint, the blossoms showing against a background of lace draperies. On a base of white were flower clusters and sprays of greenery. The millinery showings vied with the suit display. The most striking hat was a big white one trimmed wholly in graceful willow plumes of white. Inside, was a great jardiniere of calla lilies and purple iris that elicited admiration. Then such a pretty display of hats. Dress hats and tailored hats all showing well against a decorative effect of potted plants and ferns. Flowers, ribbons, bandings, malines in primrose reds and all the bright tints used this summer were efficiently shown by Miss Dierker and her assistants in the millinery department. Mr. Bentley and his corps of able clerks displayed the lovely new spring goods in the dry goods department. Good sales were made in both departments.

E. S. Gilbert & Company
One of the successful openings of this well established mercantile house was held recently with Miss Emeline Kalde, who is spending her second year as head of the Gilbert millinery department, in charge, aided by her assistants. The spring flowers and some of the more elaborate millinery materials were lavishly used in decorative effect, blending artistically with the beautiful hats shown. The English sailors and ready-to-wear hats proved popular sellers and were almost as much admired as the large picturesque chapeaux that were displayed. There were the popular parians also to choose from. The showings of trimmings included lace, to be much used in crowns and bandings; malines; a wealth of flowers and plumes. Many pattern hats, both imported and from the Gilbert designers, were shown and sold. Sales were also good in the dry goods department where an opening of spring and summer goods was held under Miss Ruth Taylor's supervision.

On the same day of the Gilbert opening and for two days previous, Miss Ruth Taylor received the public at one of the most successful openings she has experienced. Hundreds registered during the three days, Saturday seeing the largest crowds. Music by Mrs. Merrifield and Mr. Pyke gave added charm to the occasion. Miss Taylor and her assistants were kept busy showing the stylish and practical headgear so greatly admired. The prevailing styles, colors and materials were shown not only in the imported patterns but in those prepared by Miss Taylor's efficient milliners. Trimmed street and dress hats were a specialty at this opening, and many handsome ones were carried away by pleased patrons. The decorations of the store were in English ivy, with an artistically arranged show window to introduce the display.

Coming Openings
Tomorrow and Thursday, Miss Schubacher will hold her formal opening, and at the last of the week, Witham and Anderson will also show their millinery at a formal opening. Miss O'Donnell and the Misses Rutherford held their spring displays two or three weeks ago.

PAVING WAY FOR SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

William Haines, contracting agent of the Sells-Floto Circus, is in town today. Mr. Haines has come in advance of the show in order that supplies necessary for their engagement here, which is on Friday, April 12, shall be ready to be delivered just as soon as the first section of this popular circus makes its appearance.

It would be repeating an old story now to endorse the Sells-Floto people as among the very best purveyors of attractive amusement, visiting this city. For many years they have been coming back with an attraction more important in every way than those which preceded it. For the last three years they have adopted the policy of putting the regular price in half, while at the same time they have augmented and strengthened their show from every standpoint.

The prices this year will remain as formerly. Twenty-five cents admits to the circus and menagerie to its entirety.

CAPISTRANO MAN DIES AT 103 YEARS

Coroner Winbiger received a telephone message from Capistrano this afternoon announcing the death there of Isidore Sinaad, possibly the oldest resident of the county, at the age of 103 years. No details were given, but it is assumed that death resulted from old age. Sinaad had lived at Capistrano for many years, and was well known. The funeral will be held from that place tomorrow.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE FOR MISS DIETRICH

One of the most beautiful and impressive funeral services ever held in the chapel of Mills & Winbiger was the last tribute paid yesterday to Miss Julia C. Dietrich, who met accidental death in her rooms at the Parsons Apartments Saturday. There was a very large attendance of the friends of the dead girl, who was universally popular, and the floral offerings were profuse.

The service was conducted by Rev. F. D. Ashleigh of Garden Grove. Beautiful musical selections were rendered by singers from that place, and the pall bearers were selected from the friends of the deceased and her fiancé, Dr. Jacobs, in this city and Garden Grove. The interment was in Santa Ana cemetery.

HEINRICH HELD TO SUPERIOR COURT

Robert Heinrich, an Anaheim bicycle dealer, was given a preliminary examination before Justice Cox this morning on a felony charge, involving his relations with Freda Abraham, a 15-year-old girl. The testimony of several witnesses was to the effect that Heinrich had been guilty of criminal relations with the girl for some months past. He was held to answer to the superior court in bonds of $2500. Heinrich had been out on bond, with two Anaheim sureties, and was placed in the custody of the sheriff until the bond could be renewed.

DANGER IS VERY GRAVE

Anaheim Board of Trade is Strongly Opposed to Free Sugar Bill

ANAHEIM, March 26.—At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade held last night the matter of Congress removing the tariff on sugar was the main subject under consideration. After a discussion of the effect such a measure would have on the beet growers and general conditions of this state, the following resolutions were presented by J. W. Duckworth, and were ordered placed on the minutes of the meeting, and Secretary Ahlborn was instructed to sign them and send a copy to the Senate and to the House of Representatives:

Resolved, That the Anaheim Board of Trade enters its protest against the passage of the bill introduced in Congress providing for the reduction or abolition of the duty on raw sugar. We do not believe that the enactment of the proposed law would result in benefit to the consumer; and about the only people who would be benefited by this revolutionary measure would be the cane sugar refiners.

The danger to be feared from the passage of such a law is especially felt by the beet sugar growers of California. This board particularly realizes the great benefits which have flowed into all channels of trade by reason of the erection of the beet sugar factory at Anaheim last year. It gives employment to hundreds of men, skilled and unskilled, at highly remunerative wages; it provides a profitable market for beets grown by hundreds of farmers in this county on lands peculiarly adapted to the raising of that crop. To allow raw sugar to be admitted into this country free of duty would paralyze this industry not only in Anaheim but throughout California. We cannot contemplate with complacency any action of Congress which would destroy the business of the four sugar factories in this (Orange) county, and thereby bring disaster to the farmers who furnish the beets and to the working men who transform that product into sugar.

We believe that legislation should be so shaped as to conserve the interest and welfare of the manufacturer and farmer and working man of our own country, and that such protection should be afforded them as will make it unnecessary for them to compete with conditions which prevail in the less favored countries of Europe.

Interesting Debate
Another very interesting feature of the evening was the debate by the members on the subject, "Resolved, That Anaheim should be governed by a commission form of government. The affirmative, taken by Chas. Eggabroad and Herman Stern, was decided the winner by the whole body voting. The negative side was presented by Oscar Renner and A. A. Mills. The next debate will be at the next meeting, a week from Monday night, and the subject will be, "Resolved, That the city street work should be let out to the lowest bidder."

The date for the Anaheim Board of Trade "Booster" trip has as yet not been set. It is expected to be during the next month, however.

Announcement of the sub-committees which will serve during the next year was made last night by the chairman appointed at the last meeting. They are as follows:

Public Improvements — F. C. Krause, chairman; Otto Storm, Herman Stern.
Finance — J. W. Duckworth, chairman; H. M. Adams, J. S. Howard.
Trade and Commerce — Chas. Eggabroad, chairman; A. A. Mills.

There are some sub-committees yet to be appointed.

BUILDINGS SOLD TO A. I. STEWART

FULLERTON, March 26.—The old buildings which were on the Central tract, where the new high school is to be built, were sold last Saturday to A. I. Stewart for $669. The sale was made through sealed bids. The buildings consisted of a house, barn, tank and smaller buildings.

Material is expected to be on the ground this week for the new high school. Work will be commenced at once, as the general contract and all subsidiary contracts have been let, and it will be rushed to completion. The site has been cleared of all the trees.

W. H. Skillman and wife spent Sunday with relatives in Santa Ana.

GIVEN TREATMENT AT THE SANITARIUM

ANAHEIM, March 26.—The Anaheim Sanitarium is now treating a case for the prevention of hydrophobia. The patient, Miss Lela Thompson, aged 10, of Santa Maria, was bitten by a dog with the rabies, and her sister, who was bitten at the same time, died. Miss Lela was received here about a week ago and is now receiving the treatment which the Sanitarium has for the prevention of hydrophobia in case of exposure. She is doing nicely.

CAPACITY TO BE MADE 750

Anaheim Sugar Co. Will Cut More Beets This Year Than It Did Last Year

ANAHEIM, March 26.—The Anaheim sugar factory is now busily engaged in adding new equipment to the factory to raise it from a capacity of 600 tons of beets a day to 750 tons. Before the generous rains of this month, these orders for new material were being held, but now a good crop is assured and the improvements are being rushed.

There will not be a larger force of men employed, other than the men who are kept during the winter. If they are unable to complete the work, however, a larger force will be put in. The equipment being added is supplementary machinery which will give greater efficiency and more capacity. Four new dumps are also being added.

The farmers are all putting in their crops now and all that are not already in are being put in as fast as possible. The size of this year's crop will depend upon the amount of rainfall during the remainder of this and next month. Enough rain has fallen to insure a good crop, but if more falls a larger crop will be had. It is expected that the crop will amount to nearly 60,000 tons.

As soon as active work starts, business in Anaheim will greatly improve.

EASTERN STAR HAS DISTINGUISHED GUEST

Anaheim Order Entertains Grand Matron With Reception and Banquet

ANAHEIM, March 26.—The Anaheim Order of the Eastern Star had Lena Walker Stannard, worthy grand matron of the state of California, with them at their regular meeting last night. The work of the order was exemplified, and the meeting was enjoyed by all those present. A large number of visitors were present from Fullerton and Buena Park. A banquet was served at the close of the evening.

Old Settler Buried
The funeral of Albert I. Eaton, who died last Sunday morning in this city, will be held this morning from the funeral parlors of Back & Terry. The deceased was a resident of Cypress for the last twenty years. As far as is known he has no relatives in this part of the country. Word has been sent to a sister who lives in Seattle, but as yet nothing has been heard from her.

Anaheim Notes
The rainfall for yesterday afternoon and evening, according to the report of H. A. Dickie, the grocer, was 1.9 of an inch. This makes the rainfall for the season 7.52 inches. The sugar beet men say that all of these rains are necessary to making a full crop. They will be appreciated by all of the ranchers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Clark are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten-pound baby girl in their family. The machine business on West Olive street, formerly conducted by Angell & Redet, has been dissolved and the old business will be conducted in the future by D. G. Redet. Mr. Angell at present will handle the Maxwell agency in the north end of the county.

SHERMAN INDIANS GIVEN A DRUBBING

FULLERTON, March 26.—The Fullerton High School defeated the Sherman Indians' first team Saturday afternoon by the score of 10 to 1. The game was very exciting and the local boys played better ball than at any time this season.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The heavy increase in the receipts of watermelons was the feature in the market for miscellaneous kinds of vegetables. With the increased supplies prices sank to a lower level and the sales were much more liberal at the reduced rates, the local movement was not of sufficient volume to clean up supplies. Prices ranged from 5 to 12 cents per pound. Canners have not yet started operations, but with prices now getting down close to their ideas, the next week or two will doubtless see them operating. Rhubarb was easy at the recently reduced rates with the offerings ranging from $1.50 per box. Mexican watermelons were selling at a lower standard of values because of heavy offerings. A dollar and a half was about the prevailing price, although some choice offerings were held at $1.75 per box. Green peas were more liberal and were a trifle easier, but the demand was such that no change in quotations were noted. String beans were a limited supply and offerings were held at 20 cents per pound. White prices of apples remained at last week's quotations. The market presented a top-heavy appearance and sales were liberal in cold storage were disposed to shade values in order to induce buying. Retailers, however, were not disposed to buy freely and sales were limited to one and two-box lots. The maximum figure on most varieties was held at 20 cents per pound. Arrivals of strawberries were limited and as the quality of the receipts was excellent, quick clean-ups were effected at the rate of 20 to 25 cents a bushel. Oranges were the firmest offerings in the citrus market. There was plenty of low quality fruit on the market, which dragged, notwithstanding the movements offered by dealers. Lemons were held at last week's quotations.

SPRINGTIME

Brings big doling in the Yucaipa Valley. Planting fifteen hundred acres more to apple trees, putting in surface crops, completing the great gravity domestic and irrigating water systems, grading miles of streets, building scores of homes on the 5 and 10 acre ranches all make it look mighty interesting to visitors and prospective investors. You ought to see the valley in the springtime, that is, if you want to see a great sight. Now, next week, THREE TRIPS

Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, March 26, 28, 30. One day for the round trip. At Redlands we take our big automobiles for a free trip through the valley and show you the whole outlay, dinner at the Yucaipa Tavern in Yucaipa City, and see famous Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino on the return trip. The expense is only $34.00. Remember all kinds of crops are grown in the Yucaipa valley. The soil is the very best, so is the water supply. Sold on easy payments. A good market right at home for everything you want. A few hundred dollars starts a rancher in Yucaipa. Schools, stores, churches, growers' club, transportation, home market. Cool in summer, warm in winter. No fogs, no damaging winds. Right here in Southern California. That's enough. Prices will double inside of two years. Make your money work.

FIRST HUBBY IN THE WAY

Application for Marriage License Held Up by Slight Impediment

Joseph Henry Freely, who gave his residence as Santa Ana and his age as 24 years, applied to County Clerk Williams this afternoon for a license to marry Loretta M. Stenburgh, aged 20, also of Santa Ana. The young woman and a female friend accompanied him, and after the proper application had been made out Freely remarked that they would take a walk and return for a license in a few minutes.

In the meantime Under Sheriff Squires and Probation Officer Scott, who happened to be in the office, recognized the woman as Mrs. Mary White, who was before the juvenile court only a little over a month ago as an unfit person to have the custody of her infant child, the result being that the child was taken from her and sent to the Detention Home.

Quality in Cooking Fats

In cooking fats Cottolene is superior in quality to all others. Its source is clean and wholesome, it is made in clean surroundings, and is packed in airtight pails of special design that keep the contents indefinitely sweet and fresh free from dust and odors. Cottolene is richer and will go one-third farther than lard or other cooking fats made to resemble Cottolene.

In everything else quality usually regulates the price. If your grocer should ask you a trifle more for Cottolene, it is because it is worth more. Besides, Cottolene is guaranteed "satisfactory or your money back."

Fine Watch Repairing

Our repair department is the most important part of our business. We employ two expert watchmakers and have the latest, modern tools for facilitating our work.

We have the only electric power watch lathe in the city.

All work guaranteed.

Carl G. Strock

112 East Fourth St.

They informed Mr. Williams, who was preparing to fill out the license, upon which he promptly stopped work for further investigation.

However, the woman had apparently observed the eagle eye of the Under Sheriff upon her, and at latest accounts the "walk" was still in progress. The woman's husband, Wm. White, who lives in Pasadena, is said to have recently brought suit for divorce in the Los Angeles county courts.

Hattie E. Cole this morning filed suit in the superior court against Sallie P. Marsh, administratrix of the estate of T. E. Marsh, deceased, to foreclose a mortgage on certain property in lots A and B in the Carey R. Smith addition. The mortgage was given to secure a note for $1000, issued July 5, 1907, and on which it is alleged nothing has been paid except the interest to October 19, 1910. Plaintiff asks judgment for the amount of the note, with interest due, for the amounts paid out for taxes and insurance on the property, in order to safeguard the mortgage, and for $100 attorney's fees. E. E. Keech is attorney for the plaintiff.

To Quiet Title

Geo. W. Young, administrator of the estate of Margaret Young, has filed suit against Grace T. Stedman, administratrix of the estate of Geo. D. Stedman, and others, to quiet title to lots 7 and 8 in block A, Bailey's addition to Santa Ana, and lots 2, 3 and 6, block E, Hawkins' addition. Williams & Rutan are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Petitions for Letters

Nora Clapp has filed petition for letters of guardianship on the estate of Isaac Young, an insane person. The estate is valued at about $800. Daniel & Daniel represent the petitioner.

Public Administrator T. A. Wimbler asks letters of administration on the estate of Albert G. Eaton, who died March 24. The estate is estimated to be worth about $325.

T. A. Wimbler has filed a petition for letters of administration on the estate of W. E. Harris, who died March 20. The estimated value of the estate is $100. W. H. Thomas is attorney for the petitioner.

Marriage Licenses

On March 26—Charles E. Steinhilber, 57, of Long Beach, and Adelaide Leonard, 49, of San Bernardino; Julian L. B. Boulloume, 38, of Little Rock, Ark., and Alice M. Brown, 28, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Raymond C. Langendorfer, 25, and Mabel G. Gebhardt, 21, both of Santa Ana.

PHIPPS PERE GIVES

SONS $10,000,000 for $1.00 CONSIDERATION

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 26.—The three sons of Henry Phipps, Sr., John S. Henry and Howard Phipps, all of Nassau County, New York, were made wealthier by $10,000,000 Saturday, when their father divested himself of all his Pittsburg realty holdings in their favor.

According to the deed, which a representative of Andrew Carnegie's old-time partner recorded, the man whose numerous donations reach a high figure accepted $1 for his Pittsburg real estate.

PENSIONS GIVEN, EDUCATION AIDED

Carnegie Foundation Busy—War Waged on Quack Medicine and Law Schools

NEW YORK, March 26.—The sixth annual report of the Carnegie Foundation shows that up to September 30, 1911, its endowment fund amounted to $12,123,000, including Mr. Carnegie's original gift of $10,000,000 in 1905 and $1,000,000 received in 1911 as the first installment of his additional gift of $5,000,000 in 1908. The report also shows a successful war has been waged on "quack" medical and law schools.

Of the income of $590,000 for the year 1910-1911, $526,000 was expended in retiring allowances and pensions; $38,000 in general administration, and $16,000 in educational publication. Thirty-one retiring allowances and seventeen widow's pensions were granted during the year, increasing the number in force to 373.

A better adjustment is developing between the colleges and the high schools. Many universities and colleges have advanced within ten years from competing with high schools, while other institutions, like Harvard, have broadened their entrance requirements so that they can be met by the average good high school. The report lists twenty-two unworthy medical schools that have passed out of existence during the last year, unable to stand the light of publicity.

In legal education there is an improvement in instruction and an increasing emphasis on better standards by authoritative bodies like the American Bar Association, but poor schools still turn out three times as many lawyers as the country needs.

MEXICAN KILLED BY SANTA FE TRAIN

FULLERTON, March 26.—Russell Rios, a Mexican, who is not known in this vicinity, was run over by the Santa Fe overland flyer about a mile west of this town last night and killed. The train, which was running between fifty and sixty miles an hour, approached him. Rios was seen standing very close to the track, and the fireman looked out to see whether or not he was struck. The fireman could see that the engine barely missed the man, but it is supposed that the strong suction of the rapidly moving train drew him under the first car.

The train was stopped, and when picked up Rios was breathing, but died before the train reached Fullerton. His skull was fractured and his body was badly mangled.

Coroner's inquest came over this morning and after an inquiry rendered a verdict of accidental death. Nothing could be learned here regarding the dead man, his name being secured from papers in his pocket.

PERFECT HEALTH IS YOUR RIGHT

The marvelous wisdom indicated in every expression of nature makes it very evident that man was not made to suffer.

The same Creator who inspired life into your body—also inspired life into the herbs that grow—providing remedies for the ills which beset the human body.

There is no reason why you should be constantly sick—it is contrary to nature's law—and negative to the provision nature has made for you.

I have been an ardent believer in this theory for years—and I have demonstrated the wisdom of my convictions by compounding together several of nature's herbs into a remedy that has proven a Godsend to hundreds of sufferers. I call this remedy—"Brackett's System Builder," because it builds up the entire system—acting directly on the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. There are absolutely no habit-forming drugs to it. It is simply nature's herbs. If you do not enjoy the health you are entitled to, I am sure Brackett's System Builder will help you, for it will clear out your clogged system and help every organ to properly perform its work. 50 doses, 50c. At all drugists, or Wheeler and Mateer, 104 West Fourth street.

SHOWERS ADDED .15 TO RAINFALL TOTAL

Rainfall from the showers of last night amounted to .15 of an inch, according to the gauge of S. Hill & Son. This brings the total for the season up to 5.99 inches. The rain was received gladly by the sugar beet growers, who say the ground has not yet received all the moisture necessary to insure a good crop. It was also helpful to other lines, and generally was received with satisfaction.

PROGRESSIVES ARE IN CAMPAIGN STRONG

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—According to the reports which come in from San Bernardino County, the progressives of that section are going into the Roosevelt campaign with splendid vigor. They have organized a large county club, and Secretary H. T. DeWhirst writes that a remarkable amount of enthusiasm is being displayed in that district by one of the first progressive clubs formed in the state.

Cows and Hens

A good cow will make more money than any other farm animal, and the money so realized does the farmer more good than that realized from any other animal. Cream sells for cash. The cow eats today, and tomorrow her milk, cream or butter sells for money. The hen catches her feed in the same way and she, as well as the cow, deserves the respect and good care of every farmer.

BARKER MAKING GOOD

Santa Ana Strong Man Heaving Shot Over 42 Feet

Los Angeles Examiner: Barker, one of Santa Ana High's versatile athletes is making good on the track team this season. Barker was the star of the football team last fall, being chosen for the all Southern California interscholastic eleven. He is taking care of the weights for the Peatlanders and is making good with a vengeance. He is heaving the shot over forty-two feet and is good for 100 feet in the discus throw.

FLYER BEAT RECORD OF EUGENE ELY AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, March 26.—Disobeying instructions of his manager and friends, Horace Kearney, the daring free lance aviator at North Island, took his machine from the hangar during a heavy wind storm yesterday morning, turned it for a few minutes and then rose 4000 feet over the city. He beat the record established by the late Eugene Ely last summer of 3000 feet above the town.
